

Spine Care Specialist Latest Addition to Work Comp Advisory Board

IINDIANAPOLIS, Ind.-- Dr. Dwight Tyndall, of Spine Care Specialists of northwest Indiana, has joined the advisory board for the online workers compensation resource, WCGuru.com. Experiencing tremendous growth since its 2009 inception, WCGuru.com, a company with the goal of keeping Indiana workers compensation professionals informed and up to date with industry news and trends, believes the advisory board should be as well-versed as the website content.

“We are thrilled to have Dr. Tyndall join our board. He brings the kind of knowledge and experience needed to support WCGuru and its audience,” said Cathi Rogers, CEO of WCGuru.com. “Our advisory board is as diverse as our content, and having a spine care specialist committed to helping us achieve our goal - being the most comprehensive source of information, education and dialogue among Indiana work comp professionals - is exciting,” Rogers said.

Tyndall completed his Spine Fellowship from the prestigious Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City and completed his Orthopaedic training at the world renowned Stanford University in California. A regular contributor to the Hammond Times, and author of the “Ask the Bone Doctor Column”, Tyndall is also the team Orthopaedic Surgeon for the Gary Steelheads basketball team and sits on Board of Directors of the Boys and Girls Club, of which he is actively involved.
